Larry Nelson called the meeting to order and requested a roll call of the membership. A roll call was taken with all six members present creating the necessary quorum for voting purposes.

Nelson called for a motion to approve the agenda. Witek made the motion to approve the amended agenda to move The Isidore Group Six Month Status Report to the top of the agenda before Public Comments, seconded by Hausler. All members present voting aye. Motion carried.

The Isidore Group Six Month Status Report – Bergeron introduced Sebastian Abbinanti from The Isidore Group which is KenCom’s IT company. Abbinanti gave a report of the work that has occurred and began with what they have spent the last six months going through and getting a good understanding of the issues hiding within KenCom. They have identified some of them and some have jumped out in front of them as well, and he believes they have done a great job figuring out what needs to be done going forward. Abbinanti continued that thousands of tickets have been made with the events that have occurred throughout the network that were addressed within the last seven months. They have had to make some emergency changes to compensate for some issues. Abbinanti stated they are currently in the process of putting together recommendations for moving forward, and they do realize that there are many changes that need to be made and would like to see equipment more routine, such as get equipment on a replacement schedule. They are also in the process of identifying equipment that may be out of warranty, as they find in best practice to keep all the equipment in warranty. Abbinanti continued that is seems like internet always seems to be an issue with KenCom and they will be coming with recommendations in the next month in augmenting, if that is what KenCom decides. The only outstanding item is with the backup and they have been working towards engineering a solution but unfortunately an on premise solution has proven to be very difficult to engineer. They are currently looking at different vendors to see at how they can lower costs, and with all the different systems involved it becomes very difficult to find a unified backup system on premise as an option. Abbinanti reviewed a possible virtual backup system option. Abbinanti stated it will always be their recommendation to keep the backups off site. Discussion ensued on the options of the backup system being onsite versus virtual and the pros and cons to both options. Burgner noted it was mentioned that “thousands of tickets have been made”, and would like to know how many hours per month have been spent on those tickets. Abbinanti stated they have been spending 40-50 hours per month handling the normal tickets that come in with the individual users, and with the update server work at least another 60-70 hours per month totaling about 100-120 hours on average per month (vast majority is done off site). Witek mentioned Abbinanti had noted they have spent a lot of time getting their arms around the uniqueness of KenCom (being the first year) and would like to know what is being done in the process to ensure when a work order comes from KenCom, that person does not have to relearn what is going on before they can be of assistance. Abbinanti stated they have a massive configuration database and every time they discover an issue at KenCom it is properly documented and rely on that so they do not have to redouble their efforts. Bergeron stated communication has been one of the biggest struggles between KenCom and Isidore and would like to know if that struggle has been systematic or with individual people. Abbinanti stated the biggest challenge they have had is non standard configuration... and many best practices were overlooked. Discussion continued. Witek concluded that one of the reasons they asked Isidore to give a status update is to evaluate the process for future planning of the upcoming budget for IT support.

Sebastian Abbinanti left the meeting at 10:30 a.m.

Nelson called for Correspondence – Bergeron reported an elderly lady had called 9-1-1 very upset about an unusual incident that occurred at her home with her bird’s beak getting stuck in a toy. Pierro Electric came and fixed the generator and Ameren restored power. With the installation of MobileLink KenCom will now be notified via email and text for any generator activity for both the Newark and Legion Road tower sites.
