FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Kendall County Juvenile Justice Council along with the Kendall County State’s Attorney’s Office announced this week that they are hosting a Youth Round Table Discussion on March 1, 2013.

The Kendall County Juvenile Justice Council was formed in 2010 to help the youth of Kendall County. The Juvenile Justice Council is a geographically and professionally diverse group that works together, striving to impact juvenile delinquency in Kendall County. Our mission is to prevent delinquency by effectively utilizing community resources to assist at-risk youth and their families and to provide youths with opportunities to reach their full potential. However, to effectively accomplish this goal, the council needs to know the real problems facing kids today and who better to tell us this than the youth themselves.

The discussion group will consist of about 20 youths from across Kendall County. It will be led by a Plano High School student who is currently an active member of the Juvenile Justice Council. The Council wants to hear how today’s youth feel we can best utilize our resources to help the youth in Kendall County.
